IT'S A PRETTY WORK
Butte's Library Catalogue Is a Dandy.

ACCEPTED WITH THANKS

Benevolent Charles X. Larrabee Will Live Long in the Memory of a Grateful Public in Butte.

BUTTE, July 30.—At a special meeting of the library trustees this evening the catalogue, the publication of which has just been completed by T. E. Butler, was accepted. The contract was declared filled and the trustees gave Mr. Butler a hearty and unanimous vote of thanks for the excellent manner in which the catalogue was gotten up and the diligence with which it was executed.
It was decided to place a copy of the book in every school room in the county, to remain there permanently. Bills to the amount of $835.95 on the expense fund, and $617.33 on the book fund, were approved and ordered paid.
Further leave of absence was granted Mrs. J. M. White, one of the assistant librarians. A balance of $86.25 remaining from the dedication bill fund was turned over to Mr. Butler in payment for a handsome cut of Chas. Larrabee, the founder of the library, which forms the frontpiece of the catalogue.

Mr. Larrabee is very proud of the library, which was started through his generosity, and his contributions towards it will not end with his first munificent donation of $10,000. On his last visit here he expressed himself to Professor Moore, one of the trustees, as being very much pleased with the handsome building that had been erected, and also with the liberality which the people of Butte had displayed towards the library. He also stated that he was not through with the library, and that when any more money was needed for books the trustees should call upon him.

It is not the intention to distribute the catalogue until a copy can be delivered to every family that has a membership in the library. Just as soon as enough copies are bound to meet the demand, which will probably be by next Friday, the librarian will send a postal card to each family, which card signed will insure a catalogue to the person to whom it is directed free of charge, if presented at the library within ten days. As 1,300 families are represented among the 1,800 members of the library, this distribution will consume a large part of the edition.

The remarkably short time in which the catalogue was issued is a matter of general surprise and has occasioned the most favorable comment. Mr. Davies commenced to prepare the copy for the book on Feb. 10, and it took him until May 25 to complete it, as it had to be done in addition to his regular work as librarian.
On May 28 the copy was turned over to the printers, complete, with the exception of the books that have come in since that date, and after that everything around the printing office was one continual rush.

In exactly two months from the day the copy was placed in the printers' hands, the catalogue was issued, and when a copy of it was delivered to the librarian, Davies, this morning, there were only 15 books in the big library that were not represented in the catalogue. This is a record that has never been equalled in any city in the world, and it is a feat in the publishing of library catalogues in which every one connected with the publication may well take a thoroughly justifiable pride. If Mr. Butler had announced, when he undertook the publication of a catalogue of 16,000 books, that he would have it out in considerably less than six months, and that he would print it in eight weeks, librarians all over the country would, no doubt, have laughed at him and would probably have questioned his entire sanity. No promises were made, however, but the work was quietly commenced and pushed to completion in record breaking time, that will stand for a long time without a parallel.

But with all this celerity, nothing has been sacrificed and the catalogue of the Butte free public library is a neater, handsomer, more substantial and more convenient work than that possessed by any other public library in the United States. It may strike some people as being an exaggeration, but it is not. There are now at the public library here about 20 catalogues of other libraries, embracing all of the principal cities in the country, and not one of them is worthy of comparison with the finding lists that will be distributed free to the patrons of the Butte library. Other cities have larger catalogues, but that is all that can be said of them.
The publication of a library catalogue is entirely different from any other class of printing on account of the punctuation and style. The large amount of type that is required. In the book just issued there are 11 pages or about 1,500 lines, commencing with the letter A, which means that there are between 1,000 and 1,300 capital A's, which are not found in any other part of the book. There are about 2,000 lines commencing with the capital letter S and so on all through the alphabet, so that it will be seen that it requires an immense equipment of type to issue such a work. On this account it is only metropolitan printing offices that have heretofore attempted to issue library catalogues. For this reason the short time that was required in the issuance of the Butte catalogue is remarkable.

Mr. Davies, who has been a librarian all his life, and is one of the best posted men in the country, said this afternoon:
"Our catalogue has been issued in the quickest time that I have ever heard of.
Even in Boston, New York, or Chicago, as things are ordinarily conducted, I do not believe that such a book could have been printed in less than three months, and it would probably have taken six or seven." Another feature of the book is that all of the typographical work was done in Butte. The catalogue of the Marsh library, published by the University of Vermont, contains less than four-fifths as many books as the Butte catalogue, but is four times as large on account of the fullness of the entries and the greater variety of type. The preparation of this catalogue for the press took a year, and the printing alone required a full year after 26 months had been spent in classifying and cataloguing the books. Mr. Davies has two catalogues printed at Providence, R. I. One of these is for a library less than half the size of Butte's, and was nearly two months in the printing office, and it is not nearly so complete a job as that which has just been issued. The other is of a library two-thirds the size of the one here, and it took nearly four months to print the catalogue, during which time the library was closed.

In Europe and the large cities of this country there is a strong prejudice against printed catalogues for the reason that the printing usually takes so long, that by the time the book is issued it is out of date.
For instance, the printing of the catalogue of the Astor library, which is probably the most complete catalogue published in the last 15 years, took six or seven years and when it was finished between 10,000 and 20,000 books, or something like one-fifth of the collection, were not represented in the catalogue. In the Butte library, as already stated, there are only 15 books that are not in the catalogue. Some of the books that came in late are only entered once, either under the author or title.

The following is a list of the books that came in too late to be put in the catalogue: Ann. Academy of Political and Society Sciences, Annals Vol. 4; Bayly, Ada E.
Doren; Black, W. Handsome Humes; Blackmore, R. D. Periporeia; Bridges, Rob. Overboard; Arceady; Cawson, Jas. Comm. annual report 20th; Davies, H. H. Exiles, The etc.; Our English Cousins; Drummond H. Ascent of Man; Evans, Maria M. Chapters on Greek Dress; Frederick H. Copperhead, The; Gage E.
H. Microscope, etc.; Greene, Homer, Blind Brother; Harroden, Beatrice, Ships That Pass in the Night; United States Smithsonian Inst., 9th, report of Bureau of Ethnology.

FISHER'S FAREWELL.

His Last Statement Will Interest All Who May or May Not Have Had Business With Him.

Urgent business at Portland calls me away, and I leave for that point at 9:35 this morning with two pianos remaining unsold out of the 12 that arrived last Friday. I leave these two new scale Kimball pianos, which are beauties, in bright natural figured walnut cases, in charge of Orton Brothers for sale at the factory wholesale price, same as I have sold them during this sale. William Orton, who is now our general traveling wholesale agent for Montana, will take my place in disposing of these two remaining unsold, and will remain in off the road a day or two for that purpose. I wish to state also that the other six pianos, which should have come in with the twelve that arrived last Friday, (as they were all shipped in one car, making a full car load) have not yet reached Butte, and as they will now arrive too late for disposal by me, they will either have to be shipped back to the factory or disposed of by Orton Brothers at cost, same as the other two now here, and I think it would be business policy for the Kimball company, as manufacturers, to instruct Orton Brothers to draw them right up to the store and let their friends and the public have them at their actual cost, instead of shipping them back at an expense of $25 or $30 each, and according to that view of it, I have instructed them to do so, providing the customers reach here within a day or two, that it may be done without detaining Mr. Orton from his wholesale work.
On the road, but should they not reach Butte this week, he will have no time before starting out to dispose of same and in that event will be immediately shipped to Chicago. In consequence, I would urge those, who wish an excellent instrument, one that is strictly first-class in every respect and fully guaranteed as such; a make that met and defied six hundred competitors side by side at the greatest entertainment, reach here within a day or
ing Mr. Orton from his wholesale work.

ing Mr. Orton from his wholesale work.
